RUSSIAN NAVAL DEVELOPMENT In an article upon the above subject, the Morning Post says :--

A brief survey of what has been ac-

In the Baltic it is an extremely striking and noteworthy cumstance that all the vessels added up to now have been specially designated. for Russian coast defence, but for cruiser operations against English shipping. These are divided into three classes armed merchantmen, corvettes and clippers, and rigate cruisers. The first comprise four steamers which Russia obtained America in 1878 and fitted up as cruisers.
